HIGH GRADE ORE IN KEANE WONDER

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS PROMISE TO MAKE PROPERTY A BIG PRODUCER

RHYOLITE, Oct. 5.—The crosscut from the 200 foot level of the Keane Wonder shaft has exposed a width of 35 feet of ore assaying $14 in gold per ton, with the opposite wall not as yet in sight.

The crosscut is a large one, 12 feet high, and this immense lateral is all in ore of this quality. The crosscut is being run toward the hanging wall.

The shaft was sunk on the first ledge in place discovered on the estate, and is now in one of the largest ore bodies on this wonderful property. The greatest width of ore in the upper workings, where the rock is quarried out of the side of the mountain, is 37 feet, only two feet bigger than the crosscut from the shaft.

In the drift from the 100 foot level the ore is continuous, and is of about the same quality throughout. This shows that the ore body is one of great magnitude, alone sufficient to feed the mill for a long time.

Superintendent Homer Wilson estimates that without the ore in sight in the shaft workings, the old workings will produce ore enough to keep the mill running for two or three years.

It is interesting to note in this connection that several of the quartz outcrops on the Keane Wonder estate have not as yet been prospected or drawn upon for any tonnage of ore, although a sampling of the outcrops shows good values. The Whipsaw claim contains, it is believed, equally as much ore as the claim on which the principal work has been done. The reserves at the Keane Wonder present great possibilities.

The mill returns for August were for only $17,000, the quality of the bullion having been lowered on account of the sulphide ore which was then in evidence. Mr. Wilson expects the September returns to be up to the standard.

NYE COUNTY MEN EFFECTIVE WORKERS

It has not been intended, but it is certainly a fact, that in giving credit to those who made the mineral exhibit a success the proper eminence has not been given to the work of H. C. Schmidt, member of the state commission, nor to that of Branch H. Smith, one of the official collectors. How this came, we are at a loss to understand unless it was that their work was done at a distance and not under the observation of the Goldfield papers.

Both Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Smith are from the adjoining county of Nye. Mr. Schmidt is president of the Tonopah Promotion association. He was the unanimous choice of the citizens of Tonopah for the Nye county member of the committee, and Goldfield heartily seconded the choice, and the governor made the appointment. He gave much time, thought and work to make the exhibit a success, sacrificing more than some others in his attendance upon committee meetings by reason of his distant residence. He made Tonopah day a distinct success and was generous in his work for Goldfield.

Branch Smith did much of the hard and effective work of collecting the mineral exhibit. He traveled over many of the northern counties and by his good judgment and knowledge of the demands of the exhibit and by his wide popularity among the people he was able to accomplish much that would have had to be left undone had another attempted his work. He brought to the mineral palace the best individual specimens of ore to be seen at the entire exhibit; and his professional knowledge and gentlemanly instincts and bearing were much appreciated among the visitors during the exhibition.

Mr. Smith has a large acquaintance among mining men and with mining affairs. He was a member of the last state legislature and gave valuable aid in framing and passing measures affecting mining and it would be a good thing for the mining industry if he could be kept in the legislature indefinitely.—Goldfield News.

STOCK MARKET

But few of the southern Nevada stocks moved yesterday and those that were affected were changed in price only a few cents. West End and Midway each advanced 1 point. Belmont slipped back 3 cogs while Montana sold at 1 point loss.

Florence, of Goldfield, crept up 2 1/2 points. Fraction declined 2 notches in the financial cog wheel.

NOT TRUE

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "The controversy between the partisans of Peary and Cook is a disgrace to the name of American manhood and to American science."

We fail to see the truth in either point sought to be made.

In the first place, is there such a thing as "American science?"

In the second place, how can the actions of any two men, be they who they may, wherever born, however reared, regardless of what has been accomplished, or what the manner of personal conduct, disgrace American manhood?

How can anything disgrace me, with which I have had nothing to do, and how can you separate act and standing when at no point it touches me?

Neither Peary nor Cook represent ought save themselves in their efforts, their successes or their counter calumnies.

It is well to know that American manhood is not dependent upon the reputation, utterances or acts of any individual, or set of individuals; if so, our criminal courts, our jails and penitentiaries would have long and long ago stamped us with infamy.

These may disgrace themselves and their partisans may lack dignity, but that is the end of it.

AGENTMAN'S SHOE

NATURE MAKES THE WEATHER. Nettleton MAKES THE SHOES.

The man who contemplates buying a pair of shoes, ought to take into consideration the weather conditions.

At this season one's Health demands greater Protection from the elements than at any other; and there is no other one article in man's list of wearing apparel that contributes so much toward Good Health as Good Shoes.

The Flimsy and Temporary in footwear are a Poor Investment from the standpoint of service, comfort, style and protection to health.

To wear Nettleton Shoes you may be required to make a greater investment than what has been your habit; but the price is a strong argument when backed up by intrinsic value. This is Economy in Shoe-buying.
